

Change is Becoming by Rich Norman © 2013

How few live here
With us
Alone and circling in ice air
Stepping gladly upon a corpse of frozen light
Step over step
Gladly climbing upon and over
The very thing I surpass
My heel treads upon light

But light is crushed beneath our heel
We who climb over and upon the dead.